ARCHITECTS DARGHAN, AUSTRALIA ARCHITECTURE, INTERIORS, INTERIOR DESIGN

DARGHAN, Introduces a contemporary addition and abundance of natural light to a terrace home in Glebe, New South Wales.

Nestled among the rows of Glebe terrace homes, Darghan Terrace by CM Studio is a testament to the fusion of the traditional and the new and innovative design.

Reimagined to meet a young family's needs, CM Studio have welcomed light and spaciousness in a way that celebrates the home's storied past and the neighbouring terrace. Inspired by the home's original features, CM Studio have thoughtfully met the heritage requirements of the area. CM Studio retained the façade of the home, including the original front door – changing it to one with more art at an angle from the street.

Arriving home through the front door, the homeowners' friend is immediately impacted by beautiful design elements. CM Studio have used a limited palette, the dominant material being timber. Warm timber floorboards are continued in lieu of carpeting. CM Studio incorporated skylight windows in the hallway, living room, and kitchen. Natural light floods these areas, a welcome to the interior and exterior spaces, ensuring a connection with the surrounds.

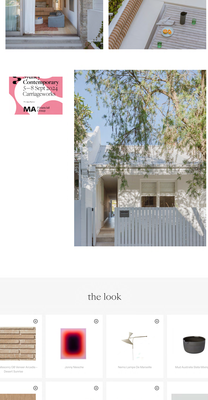
The kitchen features custom cabinetry and upholstery by Marrickville and the Marrickville Metropolitan.

Designer Tamara by CM Studio balances light, space and proportion, inspiring a life of quiet comfort and joy for the growing family who reside there.



"We opted for pillowy coastals of rose, timeless and hard-wearing finishes," Megan says. Oak, stone and stone were used throughout the kitchen and bathrooms, with the latter featuring a custom vanity and a colourful tile statement that wraps throughout the entirety of the space.

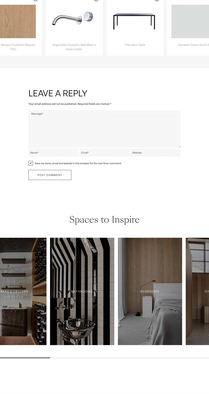
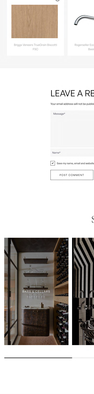
The living space features the Mint sofa, custom-fabric and trim and upholstery by The Local Upholsterer. Floor rug by Tappeti. Custom coffee table by Tee and Cino's Studio Glebe. The three sculptures on the coffee table are by Peter Maguire and Jacqueline Hoyne from Martin Lambeau Gallery. The wall clock and the vintage Tretford Clock are Tretford by Mad About Me.





The bathroom features a curated tone, highlighted by natural light from the skylight above.
